SSL Certificates

If you are exchanging personal and confidential information within your website you will need to ensure that you have an SSL certificate installed on your domain. This is particularly important for e-commerce transactions which require compliance with the PCI DSS standards. SSL certificates are a big step to meeting this requirement. For occasional needs, a shared SSL certificate (given by most web-hosting companies) will be sufficient. However, if you host with Zeecom and are serious with your domain security, or payments are a central part of your website, we give you a Dedicated SSL certificate offering 2048 bit encryption, compatibility with all major web browsers and a high level of warranty support.

Power to Your Website

Whether you want to create a blog or start a community, you can do so quickly and easily through Softaculous from your control panel. Softaculous is a great Auto Installer having 300+ great scripts, 1,000+ PHP Classes and more. These scripts cover most of the uses you could ever have. A wide array of categories are covered so that everyone could find the required script one would need to power their website.
